

2015-2016

Number 21

An Lester Trumach - The Packet Ship

22 February 2016

Dear Parents

I hope everyone enjoyed the half term break – whilst the weather wasn't perfect the mix of sunshine with rain was at least an improvement and it was good to hear from the children today that many of them got outside on most days. They returned to school to a special Drop Everything and Read day which we held today because World Book Day next Thursday will coincide with our school St Piran's Day celebrations.

On Thursday 3rd March 2016 all the children should come to school in something black and white or Cornish! Jess will be serving her now (since last year!) famous pasties along with Stones Bakery's saffron buns. All this means we have just two weeks for the children to learn fully their dance steps and Cornish words for The Song of the Western Men (Trelawny). We hope that everyone will be able to join us together as a school with the town's celebrations next Saturday week, 5th March. We've already been named as a star attraction on the official 2016 St Piran's Day website:

"10.00 to 11.40am - a celebration of St Piran with a Furry Dance by local school children and musicians, all are welcome to join in or line the streets to watch the procession. The parade will leave from the Moor, Webber Street, High Street, Brewery Yard, Prince of Wales Pier where community dance for everyone to join will be performed. Then the parade will walk through town to Church Corner where the story of St Piran will be told and Trelawny will be sung, the first verse in kernewek by the children of Marlborough School."

Full details of all the final arrangements (meeting and collection points, etc) will be sent next week as soon as we've received them from the organisers. If the weather stays fine, this will give us an opportunity to parade behind our new school banner for the first time, so it all promises to be a special occasion. In order to give us an indication of numbers attending, please let us know at the office or reply to our email address, office@marlborough.cornwal.sch.uk.

On Friday 11th March, we will be holding a Diabetes Awareness Fundraiser and we need your help... any good quality books, toys, DVDs and/or any unwanted presents or items for a Tombola. We would also like any adult help available too please! If you are able, please see Mrs Gall or leave your contact details at the office for her attention. Thank you...

... and thanks to everyone who supported the Fun for Theo snowflake and tree decoration fundraiser – we banked £313.00 for the appeal.
